Three Cornerstone Words

Peter Prevos

December 2016

The Introduction to Personal Branding by of the University of Virginia

A total of 'Three Cornerstone Words' were collected from the Courera assignment discussion page. Punctuation and stopwords were removed from the collection.

Participants used 180 words to describe themselves. These words were manually assessed to reduce duplication. All words were converted to an abstract noun, e.g. 'creative' is the same as 'creativity' and so on.

This rationalisation of terms results in 180 unique words.

The wordcloud visualised the occurence of all words that appear more than twice.